

BAND NEWS Week 2 Term 2, 2009

BAND WORKSHOP

Our first band workshop for the year was a huge hit. Musicians young and old alike hit the rehearsals and the food table with equal enthusiasm and made some beautiful sounds for their appreciative audience at the end of the day. Many many thanks to all the parents who came to supervise tutorials, to those who sent some very more-ish snacks and to our tutors. (Yes, it was a long day.) Bravo to conductors Ray and Jane for their patience and skill. But special mentions for help over and above the call of duty must go to:

Graham Honeyman, for his gift of an extra amplifier.

The Kents, for the delivery of an extra drum kit.

Nicole Page and Jill Taylor, parents and clarinet masters, who stepped in to help with tutoring.

Our lovely Training and Concert Band convenors.

And last, but not least, our fearless leaders Karen and Beci

PARENTS, REMEMBER TO PRACTISE

Those parents who attended Ray's special talk before the concert will now be practicing their "ta-ta-ta's" and helping their offspring. We hope.

NEXT EVENTS

The next big gig for our bands will be Open Day on May 27, followed by the Yamaha Festival. Watch this space for more details.

BAND SET-UP

Any parents who are available to come and help set up Wednesday or Thursday mornings are most welcome.
